School Value Described at Dinner Meet

What a state trade school means to the community picked as its site was described to Hope business men Tuesday night on the occasion of a visit here by a committee from the State Department of Education to look over the sites offered by a local hospital for treatment.

The man talking was Leo Coker, director of the Vocational Training School at Pine Bluff.

Another committee member, John Cole of Malvern, member of the State Board of Education, described the general plan for a total of six state-federal trade schools in Arkansas.

Dr. Cole pointed out that in addition to the two existing schools, at Pine Bluff and Morrilton, it is proposed to construct four more — two of them immediately. One of these, he said, will be situated in north-east Arkansas — the other in Southwest Arkansas, which is the one Hope is bidding on.

"The selection of these two will be made not before May 15, by which time we will know what to expect from state income tax collections," Dr. Cole said.

"Competition for these schools is intense," he continued. "For the four projected new schools we have 25 applications — and for your southwestern site we have eight applications alone," he added. Dr. Cole reminded his Hope audience that the visiting committee had no authority to make the site selections but was merely a team to actually view

Cold Front Brings Rains to Arkansas

A cold front due to push cooler air into Arkansas today has become stationary and may not begin moving until Friday, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today. Meanwhile more rain and mild temperatures are predicted for the state.

Rain covered the entire state this morning. Fort Smith had 1.10 inches during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. Fayetteville had .78 inches, Little Rock .57, Dardanelle 1.40, and Morrilton 1.35.

Two West Central Arkansas points had the most rain—Centerville 2.11 inches and Center Ridge 2.10.

Rainfall amounts around the remainder of the state ranged from a trace to half an inch. Maximum temperatures from the 60s north to 70s south are predicted today and Thursday, with overnight low readings from the 40s north to 50s south forecast.

Maximum readings Tuesday ranged from 63 degrees at Fayetteville and Harrison to 80 degrees at Pine Bluff and El Dorado.

Overnight low readings ranged from 50 degrees at Walnut Ridge to 65 degrees at Pine Bluff.

Naval Patrol Plane Falls, Ten Killed

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP)—All 10 men aboard a U.S. Navy patrol plane returning to fog-shrouded Argentia Naval Base were killed Tuesday night when it plunged into the sea.

The four-engine P3A Orion was approaching on instruments when it crashed three miles west of the field. Persons on shore reported seeing a fire and hearing an explosion.

Two tugboats, two crash boats, a rescue helicopter and a Coast Guard transport found no trace of the aircraft.

The P3A, a military version of the Lockheed Electra, is equipped for antisubmarine warfare and carries an array of detection gear, torpedoes and depth charges.

Identifications of the men were withheld.

Negro Child Suffers a Broken Leg

Yesterday at S. Shover and 6th Streets, an auto driven by J. M. Mitchell, Negro Doctor of Lewisville, backed into a yard and pinned a child between his auto and an old abandoned car in the yard.

Cynthia Jordan, 3, suffered a broken leg. She was admitted to a local hospital for treatment.

City Officers Clark and Shirley charged Mitchell with reckless driving.

U.S. Appeals to Rebels to Save Missionary

NATROBI, Kenya (AP)—Congolese rebel leader Christophe Gbenye announced today the execution of American missionary, Dr. Paul Carlson has been postponed until Monday, Stanleyville Radio reported.

A broadcast by the rebel radio said Gbenye has sent a message to Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta to this effect, but added that in the meantime it was up to Washington to find a suitable basis for negotiating over the prisoners held in the rebel stronghold.

It added that if no satisfactory basis is found Carlson will be executed as scheduled.

By ROBIN MANNOK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United States appealed directly to Congolese rebel leaders today to protect medical missionary Paul Carlson and other Americans and to permit their safe evacuation.

U.S. Ambassador G. McMurtree Godley directed the appeal to rebel President Christophe Gbenye's headquarters in Stanleyville, where about 60 Americans and nearly 800 Belgians are "prisoners of war."

Godley presumably sent the appeal by radio or through an intermediary. The United States does not have direct contact with the rebel capital 775 miles northeast of Leopoldville.

The United States said it holds the rebel authorities "directly and personally responsible for the safety of Dr. Carlson and of all American citizens in areas under your control."

"As you know," the message continued, "this government along with other nations has fully supported the unsuccessful efforts of the International Committee of the Red Cross and the OAU (Organization of African Unity) and a commission to get your agreement to an ICRC humanitarian mission in Stanleyville and to arrangements to protect and evacuate innocent civilians."

"We continue to stand ready to cooperate fully in such humanitarian efforts and to discuss arrangements through these organizations. We are so advising the chairman of the OAU ad hoc commission (Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya) and urge you to communicate with him in this matter."

A broadcast from Stanleyville Tuesday gave the first indication that Carlson was still alive. (Continued on Page Two)

Set Fire to House to Bring Reunion

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A 10-year-old boy told police he wanted to bring his parents back together so he set his mother's house afire.

Detective Fairlee Morgan reported Tuesday that the boy said his father lived in Montgomery, Ala., and his mother lived in Mobile in a house belonging to relatives.

The fire was stopped before much damage was done to the small frame house.

95 Additional Military Bases to Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today 95 more military bases will be eliminated. These include some naval shipyards.

McNamara told a news conference the bases affected by the new cutback will be announced Thursday. He declined to identify any of them at this time.

He said the cutbacks will be phased out over a period of years and will save about $500 million a year "without degrading our military capabilities."

In addition to shipyards, McNamara said air bases, army bases and other facilities will be affected, some small and some quite large.

The latest batch of base closings comes on top of 574 previous actions to close or reduce installations considered surplus.

Drive to Aid the Mentally Retarded

Elmer Brown will serve as chairman for the distribution of school collection envelopes in Hempstead County for the Arkansas Association for Retarded Children in November.

Since this will be the only means of solicitation in Hempstead County this year, it is urgently requested that you support the Association for Retarded Children by placing a contribution in the envelope your child will be bringing home and return it to school the next day.

The National Association for Retarded Children was founded in 1950 to promote the general welfare of the mentally retarded of all ages. The vast national problem of America's 5½ million mentally retarded is one which should be of deep concern to all American citizens and a vital need exists for extensive research to uncover causes and preventive measures in mental retardation.

The National Association for Retarded Children has since its inception sought the establishment in all communities of well-rounded programs for the mentally retarded including religious training, recreation, education and guidance toward useful adulthood.

The Association is seeking public support and understanding for its program in behalf of the mentally retarded who live in our midst and need our help.

10 Congressmen Are Making Tour of the Pacific at the Expense of U.S. Taxpayers

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican congressmen have questioned the propriety of a 19-day tour 10 congressional committee staffers are making of Air Force bases in the Pacific — at taxpayers' expense.

Some of the staffers on the Air Force-sponsored tour work for committees with little or no connection with military matters.

"This kind of operation seems to run counter to (Secretary of Defense Robert S.) McNamara's pledge to reduce spending in the Defense Department," said Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio.

A high-ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee, Bow said: "It will be interesting when the Defense Department's budget comes in next year to find the cost of and the reasons for a trip of this kind."

Rep. William G. Bray of Indiana, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said he favors foreign trips by congressmen and staff members when they serve a useful purpose.

But of this trip, Bray said: "I can't see any justification for it and I think it's one of the expenses that could be cut down."

The Air Force furnished the Associated Press Tuesday with some facts about the tour and the names of those on it after Capitol Hill sources had made the trip known.

Acknowledging that it is footing the bill, the Air Force said it has not calculated the cost.

The congressional staffers — no Congress members are making the trip — stay in quarters at the bases where available and in hotels where not available, the Air Force said. They are being transported in a military version of the Constellation, a four-engine propeller-driven craft.

"General orientation and familiarization" with military activities and facilities in the Far East is the purpose of the tour, the Air Force said.

Committees represented include the Senate subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and the Senate subcommittee on Investigations.

Some of the subcommittees deal directly with military operations and government procurement.

The tour, from Nov. 5 to Nov. 24, includes air bases in Canada, the Aleutians, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Manila, Guam, Wake Island and Hawaii.

Office Thievery Is A Growing Problem Today — Businesses Like to Steal Rival's Secrets

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Office thievery is a growing problem today.

Big industries steal their big and small secrets from each other. Spies in business may make more money than spies in government. But most office thieves merely are novelty larcenists — junk takers.

My desk has been invaded by them too often, and I feel they are an ordeal and an unnecessary nuisance.

Most people keep immaculately clean desks. They live as if, when they quit their desks on any day, they had no reason to come back to them tomorrow. If they did overnight, the newcomer who took their place the next morning would face a mirror newness.

I live another way. I believe a clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind.

Most people lock their desks. I don't. I leave my desk unlocked and piled daily higher with a clutter of wistfulness, postponed decisions and unanswered letters.

This is why it puzzles me that I am more often a victim of office thievery than those who keep neat, locked desks.

Experience has convinced me that office thieves either use my desk for practice, or that, mistaking availability for value, they take what is there and hope it may be useful later. Certainly I don't cuddle the secret of how to make cheaper steel or a protein-enriched cola drink.

I hate to think that an international ring of office espionage artists is employing my desk for a training ground, but how else can I explain that—

My letters from admiring old ladies have been ruthlessly opened, and peered into.

So have been the follow-up letters from their husbands saying, "No matter what my wife wrote you, if you try to sell her anything, I'll tell you right now that I'll not be financially responsible."

So have been my invitations to cocktail parties to celebrate a new tractor, or to judge the vocal excellence of a troupe of visiting canaries.

Careless as I am, I still resent the fact that any office thief should purloin from my desk such as the following:

My unmailed encouraging note to Gen. Custer, before the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876, "just keep on herding those Indians, George, and you'll be back in Washington as Army chief of staff."

A wry postcard from William Jennings Bryan following his defeat for the presidency in 1908, after earlier losing in 1896 and 1900, "Well, you can't win them all, kid!"

Labor Fight Sizzling in Congress

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — An explosive labor battle with a short fuse is sizzling in the wings of the new Congress.

The fight is expected to flare up soon after Congress meets in January. It could be the hottest labor battle since the 1959 Congress cracked down on union racketeering with the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The issue is simple. Organized labor wants to repeal one short paragraph in federal labor law that directly affects every union in America and about one-third of the nation's approximately 70 million workers.

The paragraph — Section 14B of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act — permits states to outlaw union shop contracts under which every worker must join the union. Twenty states have outlawed them. They are legal in the 30 other states.

Jubilant labor leaders have been waiting 18 years for the fight time to light the fuse in Congress to wipe out the 20 state "right-to-work" laws. They're in no mood to wait. They think the hefty new Democratic majority makes repeal of 14B a cinch.

George Meany, president of the 3-million-member AFL-CIO, has tagged it labor's No. 1 goal in Congress in 1965. Even unions that don't get along with the big federation agree.

Labor spokesmen predict a fast, short, hot fight in which "we expect to be victorious."

Opponents are led by the National Right-to-Work Committee. Even before union leaders made their move, the committee said: "The hierarchy of organized labor is trying to take a giant step toward their admitted goal of forcing every employed person in the nation to pay a union boss for the privilege of working."

The committee is also talking about court action if labor wins.

In pressing for repeal, labor will be trying to collect on a four-year-old Democratic campaign promise. It was written into the Democratic platform in 1960 as well as 1964, but until now labor didn't have the political muscle in the House to force the issue.

What makes labor so confident is that the new Congress will have a majority of labor-backed members in the House for the first time.

The Committee on Political Education, the AFL-CIO's political arm, helped boost 233 House members into office. Labor leaders are also eager to take quick advantage of the defeat of GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, the Senate's right-to-work champion.

Union men believe right-to-work laws drag down the whole cause of organized labor, not just in the 20 states that have them. Repeal of 14B could set off major organizing drives.

The National Council for Industrial Peace, which lobbies against right-to-work legislation, said the issue "brought about a revolution" in the control of legislatures in Montana, New Mexico, Wyoming, Utah, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

The states with right-to-work laws are Utah, Indiana, Kansas, Wyoming, Arkansas, Arizona,

Back to School for Astronaut

ELTORO, Calif. (AP) — It's back to school for Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., the first American astronaut to orbit the earth.

Glenn checked in at the El Toro Marine Air Station Tuesday for a two-week refresher course in flight training. Purpose of the course is to restore his status as an unrestricted pilot.

Glenn has been grounded since a bathroom fall earlier this year impaired his sense of balance.

Glenn plans to retire from the Marine Corps in January to enter private business. He will

The telegram I sent to a man named Ford: "If you ask my advice, Henry, don't put your trust in a four-wheeled vehicle just because it wears out more tires. The big future is in a three-wheeled car."

And the advice I gave to Tom Edison: "What's the use of putting a light inside a closed glass bulb — if it makes it just that much harder to reach with a match?"

The trouble with an office thief is that he usually steals something that isn't at all important to him but may be to the one he preys upon.

There isn't much glory in robbing a city dump, and a guy who holds up a dump instead of a bank shows himself to be a pitiful amateur — and so do most office thieves.

Highway Building Bids to Be Opened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Department announced Tuesday it would open bids Dec. 16 on a contract for construction of its proposed central office building.

It would be situated near Interstate 30 west of nearby Mabelvale. It would cost an estimated $2 million.

The present department building, constructed in 1939, would be sold to the Education Department.

The new building, which would be a nine-story structure, has been in the planning stage for several years.

The department already has located its Little Rock District headquarters at the Mabelvale location and some state departments are operating there.

Washington Gets New Police Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital is getting a new police chief.

He is Deputy Chief John B. Layton, 52, who will succeed Chief Robert V. Murray, 60, on Dec. 1 in the $23,000-a-year job.

Murray is retiring for health reasons.

Layton's promotion to head of the 3,000-man Metropolitan force was announced Tuesday by District commissioners.

Country Club Dinner

The speaking program took place after a dinner meeting staged at Hope Country Club by Hope Chamber of Commerce, which, because of space limitations, had to be limited to a cross-section of the business community. State Senator Olen Hendrix of Antoine and State Rep. Talbot Feild, Jr., of Hope spoke on the matter of legislative financial support for the new schools, which they said was assured.

The dinner at the Country Club was prepared by Homer Beyerley, Guy Watkins, Brack Schenck, and Joe Hankins.

Eugene White, vice-president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster. President Bill Gunter being out of town at a lumbermen's convention.

The state committee arrived in Hope in mid-afternoon Tuesday and was escorted on a tour of the sites by B. N. Holt, secretary-manager, and Eugene White, chamber vice-president; and Garland Medders, city manager, and James H. Jones, superintendent of city schools.

Midwest Gets Rain, East in Drought Grip

CHICAGO (AP) — Moderate precipitation dampened the dry Midwest Tuesday, but barren New England remained in the grip of its most prolonged drought in history.

The water shortage in the New England areas became more critical. Officials feared the supply would be depleted within weeks.

The situation was different in Oklahoma, where light rains continued after downpours which caused floods in several areas.

Intermittent rains which began over the weekend continued in the eastern third of Kansas and adjacent Missouri. The rains eased a record autumn siege of dry, hot weather.

Colder temperatures brought locally heavy snow squalls to most of Michigan, the heaviest around Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. The snow was expected in Detroit tonight.

A thin blanket of snow covered sections of northern Indiana Tuesday morning. Rain continued to fall on parched rural areas. It was the first substantial precipitation in Indiana in more than a month.

Pasture conditions improved somewhat in Illinois due to weekend rains.

The drought continued unabated in New England, where the U.S. Department of Agriculture says the worst pasture conditions in the nation exist. Crop losses are expected to reach $20 million.

No drought relief is sighted in Connecticut where the state's woodlands and brushlands have been closed, banning all hunting and fishing in these areas.

New York State received some snow flurries along with a wave of cold air. Woods in 45 counties are still closed because of the fire hazard the state's six-month-long drought has created. Many communities are low on water and are using emergency supplies.

Waters receded in north Oklahoma despite light rains. The Chickasaw River, which overflowed Tuesday and drove scores of families from their homes, was back in its banks in most places. However, both Ponca City and Tonkawa were braced for a rise in the Arkansas River from steady rains.

Subzero temperatures and heavy snows hit the northern mountains of Arizona again.

the sites the various cities are offering the state government.

What School Means

Mr. Coker, director of the Pine Bluff school, said: "Currently we have an enrollment of 436, and our maximum has been 531."

"If you get the southwestern trade school here is what you may expect:

"An investment of around half a million dollars for buildings and equipment.

From 25 to 40 employees, with an annual expenditure in the community of about a quarter million dollars.

"Approximately 40 per cent of your students will be commuters — that is, if they live only an hour's drive from Hope they won't live here but will travel back and forth daily.

"The school will operate six hours a day, and there will be a demand for part-time jobs, as many of the students will need to work to maintain themselves in the school.

"The effect of the school will be to increase the skilled labor pool of your community.

"As time wears on you will find that the age level of the students will tend to drop, and the level of their education will rise."

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oh those marrying Mouseketeers! Cheryl (Holdridge) became the bride of a sportsman - heir Lance Reventlow this month. Now Annette (Funicello) will wed her manager, Jack Gillardi, Jan. 9.

What's more, Annette reports that all of the onetime performers of the Mickey Mouse Club are now married — "all except Cubby and Karen, the two little ones."

Annette, the most successful alumna of the club and the only one remaining under contract to Disney Studios, was busy this week with final details for the wedding — and doing her Christmas shopping as well. Why now?

"Because I'll be starting another beach picture, 'Beach Blanket Bingo,'" she explained. "I won't finish it until nine days before the wedding. But nearly everything is set now. I've picked out the flowers for the church — St. Cyril's in Encino. We'll have 700 people there."

"I've just about completed the menu and decorations for the reception that's no small matter, because we're having 550 for a sit-down dinner in the grand ballroom of the Beverly Hilton."

"We wanted a smaller wedding, but you know how those things go. It just sort of got out of hand."

The bridegroom is executive for a talent agency firm, General Artists Corp., and one of his clients has been Annette.

"I first met him," she recalled, "when he was managing Frankie Avalon. I was 14 and dating Frankie at the time, but I had a big crush on Jack. To him, of course, I was just a little girl."

Six months ago Jack and Annette began dating exclusively. He will continue as her agent after their marriage.

Annette's career has continued to flourish with her coming of age — she's 22. She remains under contract to Disney's for two films a year and for recordings. She makes guest appearances on television. She'll be with Bob Hope on NBC Friday night. She has a contract for two films per year with American International, producers of the successful "Beach Party" epics.

November 16, in the Children's Building of the Methodist Church. Gail Forrester led the opening prayer. The president, Della Jordan, presided over the meeting. Peggy McIver, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and twenty-seven members were present to try out for parts in the Christmas Pageant to be presented in December by the group. Mrs. J. R. Forrester directed the choir practice and Mrs. J. W. Fields served refreshments.

"DEAR ABBY"

FROZEN ASSETS!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: How long is a girl supposed to wait for a man to marry her? I've been going with him for 16 years. I am 46, have been married, no children. He's 58, has never been married, owns his own business, lives in style and likes to travel (alone). At first his excuse was that he had to support his mother. That may have been true 16 years ago, but today she needs his "support" like I need a hole in my head. He's made some shrewd investments for her (she owns two luxury apartment buildings) and her income is over $35,000 a year. (I know. I work for him.)

In private he tells me he "loves" me. In public he refers to our relationship as "pals" or "buddies." I'm sure he doesn't have anybody else (in town, anyway) and I certainly don't have another man and don't want one. How do I get him to marry me?

ON ICE 16 YEARS

Dear On Ice: No preacher would marry a woman to a man with a gun in his ribs. Your friend is surely not waiting for you to propose, so give him the "now or never" ultimatum. But be prepared for a negative reply.

Dear Abby: The letter from Mrs. S. regarding her disfigured daughter brought back memories of an incident which occurred when I was in the fourth grade. As I look back now, I realize how much wisdom and understanding our teacher showed. She chose the most popular boy in the class—one whom all the other boys looked up to—and she told him privately, "Tomorrow we are going to have a new boy in class. He stutters badly. The best way to overcome stuttering is to read aloud. If you children laugh at him, or make fun of him when he stutters, it will make his stuttering worse. If you show no signs of noticing it, you will help him tremendously. It is up to you children. I am depending on you. Spread the word to every boy in the class."

I was the girl chosen to get the word to all the girls. As I recall not one person in the class ever violated the trust the teacher placed in us. Needless to say, the new boy improved. MRS. R.E.R.

Dear Abby: Regarding the woman whose daughter had been badly disfigured in an accident and was fearful of returning to school while in dire need of plastic surgery.

My neighbor had a son who had a dental problem and he was worried about going back to school wearing the necessary brace-type appliance on his head. His teacher had him get up before the class and explain what it was all about. There was never one bit of ridicule or rudeness from the children once they understood the problem. If that mother would go to school and speak to the class and explain what had happened to her daughter and how they hoped to correct it in the future, I'm sure she would find the children very sympathetic and extremely kind to the child. Young people are amazingly cooperative when put to the test. THELMA J.

Dear Abby: I know it's bad psychology to keep after my teen-age daughter to stand up straight, but her lovely figure is spoiled by the way she stands. She either has one hip sticking out, or one toe turned in, or she stands with her shoulders stooped and her stomach sticking out. I hate myself for constantly criticizing her in front of others, but how else can I get her to pay some attention to her posture and improve it?

Businessmen Know What's Happening

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are paying more heed today to what is happening than to what didn't.

What didn't happen was the production of cars and parts and materials that didn't occur because of shutdowns in auto plants.

What is happening is the continuing rise in output of other consumer durable goods and in the nondurable staples of the economy.

The loss of car output dragged the industrial production index down in October from the previous month for the first time in more than a year. But it is still 131.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average, compared with 126.1 per cent in October 1963.

And this helps businessmen shrug off the expected drop last month because of labor troubles and look to a fast recovery.

Two other statistics that looked queasy in October come under the same interpretation.

Retail sales dipped slightly, but this too was due to loss of incomes in communities where plants were shutdown because of strikes or because struck customers weren't buying just then.

Job totals also were adversely affected by the auto troubles. But businessmen note that outside this industry and its suppliers the job demand was strong. Employment advanced in service and trade and in state and local governments, and was

Blytheville Passes Bonds

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A $50 million bond issue to finance construction of a chemical plant to be operated by Continental Oil Co. was overwhelmingly approved here Tuesday.

With one ward not reported, the vote was 1,710-22 in favor of the proposed bonds, which would be issued under Act 9 of 1960.

The plant would produce 1,000 tons anhydrous ammonia daily at Barfield on the Mississippi River east of here.

Continental has announced that it has completed arrangements for the sale of the first $20 million in bonds. The firm, which assumes the entire obligation for retirement of the bonds, plans to spend only $20 million on initial construction, but may issue the rest of the bonds if necessary.

Construction is scheduled to begin soon.

off less than seasonally in the construction industry, where weather is a factor.

Consumers are spending more in communities untouched by the labor strife. After allowing for sales losses in autos, retail trade is topping year ago levels by the highest percentage since last March when the federal income tax cut went into effect.

Utilities are producing more despite the auto setbacks, and count on the increased demand continuing.

Industries producing equipment both for consumers and for business firms kept on climbing in October.

Capital spending by business is still rising. The October setback in production figures is deemed only temporary. It seems unlikely to change any boardroom thinking about the advisability of expanding plant and buying new equipment.

So today's tendency is to write off October's troubles as temporary and take those continuing this month in stride. Outside the affected industries the trend is still upward.

Bus Firms Seeking a Rate Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Fifteen bus companies doing business in Arkansas took their plea for a 10 per cent fare increase before the Arkansas Commerce Commission today.

Eugene Warren, attorney for the National Truck and Bus Association, said he would detail cost figures to show the need for the increase.

"Payrolls have gone up for both drivers and maintenance personnel," he said, "there has been an increase in the cost of buses and bus facilities, while at the same time a decrease in riders."

Frank Kegley of Alexandria, La., traffic director of Continental Southern Lines, said his firm lost $35,850 in Arkansas in 1961, $25,957 in 1963 and $24,299 in the first six months of this year.

Kegley said the cost of operating a bus in Arkansas has gone up from 23 to 28 cents a mile.

D. P. Green of Wichita, Kan., general sales manager of Continental Central Lines, said the proposed 10 per cent increase would bring his company $6,942 a year.

Must Ignore Man Made Race Barriers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Hal Robbins, director of a bi-racial committee of state educators, said Monday that professional school people must ignore man-made barriers of race, creed and color in working for educational improvements.

Robbins, former principal at Conway High School, heads a joint committee of the Arkansas Education Association (white members) and the Arkansas Teachers Association (Negro). He spoke at a staff meeting here of the state Education Department.

Who Steals My Name . . .

By Clay Richards

The Story: Two break's put Inspector Blake on the trail of Richard Emery. The suspect's girl says Emery went to Chicago, and a friend of Emery's, Joe Balk, tries to put Blake out of action with a pistol. Balk was arrested and is being questioned. Blake goes to Chicago.

IX
After the train pulled into Chicago, I took a taxi to a hotel and registered. I had a quick shower and changed clothes. I buckled on the holster, slipped the gun into it, and left the room. Downstairs, I got into a cab and directed the driver to the postal building.

I stopped at the reception desk and identified myself. A check was made with somebody on the phone, and then I was told to see Inspector George Dundy. He was in an office down the hall. I found the door with his name on it, and went in.

The man at the desk was about my own age, short and slender, with quick nervous gestures. His desk was piled high with papers so it looked like any of the desks back in New York. He looked up as I came in.

"Yes?" he said.

"I'm Inspector Blake Morgan from New York," I said. I took out my wallet and showed him my identification. "I was told to see you."

He nodded, sighing. "The chief told me to see you when you got here and give you any help I can." He glanced at the papers on his desk.

"How many cases?" I asked.

"Fifty-nine."

"Sounds like New York," I said, smiling. "You know what I'm interested in?"

"Yes. Thefts of letters with checks in them, the appearance of forged postal money orders."

He took a folder from the pile on his desk. "There was an outbreak the last three days. Looks like the work of someone new here. We don't know the extent of it yet - or where it'll break

Thinks Porkers Will Win Over Texas Tech Sat.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Unlimited substitution is being sought by many college football coaches for next season. There may be unlimited substitution among football forecasters, too, if last week's record isn't improved upon.

It brought the season's average to .695.

Hopefully, here are this week's picks:

Notre Dame over Iowa: Notre Dame has Huerfano and Iowa has Snook, two of the season's best aerial artists, but Notre Dame also has a lot of others and Iowa doesn't.

Yale over Harvard: Chuck Mercein, the Yale fullback, is one of the best in the country.

Ohio State over Michigan: The Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl invitation hinge on this result with the Buckeyes favored despite Bob Timberlake.

Oregon State over Oregon: Two of the season's surprise teams tangle with the Oregon Staters finding a way to stop Bob Berry.

Florida State over Florida: The Seminoles have the better line.

Kansas over Missouri: Annually one of the most rugged struggles of the year.

Arkansas over Texas Tech: Tech has the great Don Anderson but he won't be enough against the fierce Razorbacks from Arkansas.

Nebraska over Oklahoma: Providing the Huskers concentrate on the game and aren't dreaming about the Cotton Bowl game on New Year's day.

Southern California over UCLA: A cross-town rivalry with a slight Rose Bowl tinge.

Gilchrist Is Fired by the Leading Bills

By LEE COPPOLA
Associated Press Writer
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Controversial Cookie Gilchrist, the American Football League's leading rusher and 1962 Player of the Year, appeared headed for either the Oakland Raiders or the New York Jets today after being discarded by the Buffalo Bills.

The Bills, pace-setters in the Eastern Division and hoping to win their first AFL title, fired the $30,000 a year, 250-pound fullback by placing him on the waiver block for $100. They said they wouldn't withdraw the waivers either.

Thus Gilchrist was available for the $100 to the AFL club with the poorest record. The Boston Patriots and the Jets put in a claim. Houston, Denver and Kansas City, which had prior rights because of worse records this season, said they weren't interested in the 29-year-old fullback.

The Oakland Raiders, who discussed the situation Tuesday night, said they would wait until Wednesday to see what the other clubs did. The Raiders, with a 2-7-1 record, could grab him unless Houston (2-8-0) and Denver (2-8-0) changed signals. If the Raiders also pass, Cookie will go to the Jets.

Gilchrist, when he got the word of his axing, said he would like to play with either the Jets or Raiders.

"His only concern is himself and how much yardage he can gain," said Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

"Certain incidents have taken place over the last six weeks which were uncalled for, in my opinion," added Saban. "I felt we had to go without him. The club is more important than the individual's gain."

Gilchrist said the move was "inevitable."

"This is my third year and about the fifth time they've tried to trade me. It's apparent they didn't want me around," said Gilchrist.

Gilchrist, top rusher in the league with 751 yards in 162 carries, gained only 31 yards Sunday when the Bills (9-1) lost their first game of the season, 36-28, to the second place Patriots (7-2-1).

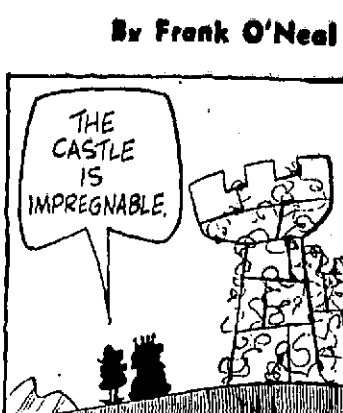

The Bostonians are only 1½ games behind the Bills. Each has four games to go, including a climactic clash between the two at Boston Dec. 20.

Wray Carlton, a 220-pound, eight-year veteran, was taken off the injured reserve list to replace Gilchrist.

Gilchrist was signed by the Montreal at Toronto Detroit at Chicago

Powder Puff Grid Game Saturday

"My rollers are all falling out!"

Most football coaches aren't plagued by their players making such remarks, but many strange things have taken place at Hope High School lately.

This remark was made by Diane Purtle, member of the Junior Girls' team Saturday, November 21, the Juniors will face the Senior Girls in the St.

Bills after being suspended by Toronto of the Canadian Football League.

He was chosen the AFL's Player of the Year by The Associated Press in 1962—his first season with Buffalo—after gaining 1,096 yards rushing.

Guernsey Wins 3 From Cale

Guernsey captured three games from Cale last night on the home court. The Guernsey Jr. Girls had an easy time running up a 53 to 18 win with Coleman tossing in 21 and Rosenbaum 13. Lee made six for the losers.

The Senior Girls game was some closer with Guernsey winning 28 to 25 with Black tossing in 13. Johnson made 14 for Cale. Guernsey Sr. boys racked Cale 62 to 33. Coleman made 22 Faulkner 13. For Cale Callicott had 11 and Bradley 9.

Old Yankees Never Die — Yogi to Mets

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Old Yankees never die. They just become Mets. Yogi Berra is the latest to cross over the bridge, following in the footsteps of Casey Stengel and George Weiss.

Berra will be a coach under Stengel, his old boss. If he can get into shape in spring training, Yogi will be placed on the active list as a player-coach.

This badly kept secret became a fact Tuesday when the Mets made the announcement at a news conference. Weiss, the club president, and Berra were hooked up to Glendale, Calif., was set up to bring Manager Stengel's comments across the nation.

"They even had a Met uniform for Yogi. Naturally, it had No. 8 on the back."

The publicity staff thought of everything. It even had a message from Chris Cannizzaro, the Mets' catcher who was the old No. 8. He bowed out in style, waving his rights to No. 8 in a message from San Leandro, Calif.

Berra will be the highest-paid coach in baseball. And probably in football, too. He will get a reported $40,000 from the Mets and $25,000 from the Yankees in what Weiss described as "severance pay."

Yogi had made a more fortunate deal as a special field consultant after the Yankees fired him as manager the day after the World Series.

Under the terms of the Yankee contract, Yogi could take a job elsewhere and still get the $25,000. Under those circumstances it almost pays to be fired.

"I am happy to be coming here," said Berra. "I'll do whatever Casey wants. I'm going to work out in spring training. I may play if I can. I did catch some batting practice last spring."

On the telephone hookup from California, Stengel was in his usual form.

"Very, very delighted to have you, Yogi," he said to the man he used to call his assistant manager. "I know you'll be very successful. I looked up your record and it took two pages. Don't get into many dent Council's Powder Puff football game.

An added feature will be the cheerleaders and majorettes who have been selected by the teams. All are boys. A class beauty will be announced at halftime.

Kickoff time for this grid epic will be at 7:30. Tickets, 50 cents, are available at the gate or may be purchased in advance from any Senior High Student Council member.

Immediately after the game, there will be a dance at the Youth Center, with the music of the "Psycho" and featured vocalist Billy Williams.

Hatfield Leads the Nation in Punt Returns

NEW YORK (AP)—Arkansas' Ken Hatfield holds a big edge in punt returns in National Collegiate Athletic Association statistics released today.

The Razorback ace has returned 28 punts for 499 yards, an average of 17.8. His big ones this season were 81 yards for a touchdown against Texas and 78 yards for a score against Southern Methodist University.

Hatfield's nearest challenger is 157 yards back. Hatfield led the nation in punt returns last year.

Tom McNelly, Arkansas' placement specialist, is tied for third in the nation among NCAA schools for scoring by kicking only. He has 25 points on extra points and 15 from field goals.

The Razorbacks moved up to sixth in the nation in total defense, giving up 1,626 yards in nine games for an average of 180.7 yards per game.

Arkansas has allowed only 6.3 points per game (57 points in nine games) for sixth place in that category.

The Razorbacks are 9-0 and ranked third in the nation.

Texas Tech is Arkansas' next foe and the Red Raiders' Donny Anderson is second in the nation in individual rushing with 877 yards on 190 carries in nine games.

Tech has the best offense in the Southwest Conference and Arkansas has the best defense.

The Razorbacks' Cotton Bowl opponent, Nebraska, is first in the nation in total defense and sixth in total offense.

The Cornhuskers have yielded 1,372 yards in nine games, an average of 152.4 yards. They have gained 3,249 yards, an average of 361. Nebraska is third in rushing with 2,179 yards, 242.1 per game, and fourth in scoring with 242 points, or 26.9 per game.

Nebraska is sixth in defending against the forward pass, allowing 58 completions on 129 attempts for 635 yards, or 70.6 per game, but only one touchdown. The Cornhuskers have intercepted six.

The Cornhuskers are sixth in rushing defense, giving up 737 yards for an 81.9 average, and they are just a hair behind Arkansas in giving up points: 6.4 per game (58 points in nine games).

In 18 years with the Yanks, Berra had a lifetime batting average of .285, hit more home runs than any catcher (.313), and added 45 more as an outfielder for a total of 358. He played in 14 World Series and 15 All-Star games.

The Yanks made Berra a player-coach in 1963 and in 1964 he took over as manager when Ralph Houk moved up as general manager. He won the pennant but lost the series and was fired the next day.

Arkansas S. May Get a Bowl Bid

ABILENE (AP) — The final top 10 poll for the Pecan Bowl indicated Tuesday that a north-south battle may be in the offing for the NCAA midwest college division game to be played here April 12.

Colleges from Louisiana and Arkansas and the North Central Conference of the Dakotas and Iowa dominate the final top 10 as picked by sports newsmen from the 14 states.

The top six teams are Louisiana Tech, No. 1; Arkansas State, No. 2; North Dakota State, No. 3; Grambling, No. 4; State College of Iowa, No. 5, and North Dakota, No. 6.

The official six-man NCAA selection committee will probably draw on teams from the top 10 although they are not restricted to the poll.

The competing teams will be named next week.

Louisiana Tech was the favorite of the writers for the role as the strongest NCAA team among college division schools in the midwest. The Tech Bulldogs sport an 8-1 season record and retain the No. 1 spot for the third week in spite of a 14-7 loss to Southern Mississippi last Saturday.

North Dakota State leads the trio of North Central Conference teams in the poll with a 9-1 record. These three teams knocked off all the outside opposition but were unkind in conference warfare. North Dakota State defeated State College of Iowa, which in turn whipped North Dakota, overcame a 15-point deficit in the last 10 minutes to beat the Celts.

Boston had a 17-point halftime bulge against the Bullets and built it to 23 in the first four minutes of the third period. Then Don Ohl ignited a Baltimore burst that caught the Celts with 4½ minutes left in the game.
